Return & Exchange Policy Guidelines

Oct 11, 2026 · @ST

Policy at a glance

ConnectWave Telecom (placeholder) accepts returns and exchanges of devices and accessories within 30 days, with a $50 restocking fee on wireless devices and none on accessories. These terms mirror the published Verizon policy (source); set your own values before launch.

Item	Return window	Restocking fee	Refund of fees
Phones, tablets, watches, hotspots (postpaid)	30 days from purchase (online: from ship date)	$50 + tax (waived in Hawaii)	Activation or upgrade fee refunded if returned within 30 days
Prepaid devices	14 days	$50	None
Accessories (cases, chargers, earbuds)	30 days	None	—
Leased home-internet router/gateway	Return within 30 days of cancellation	—	Unreturned fee up to $175 if not returned
Devices from authorized (third-party) retailers	Retailer's own policy	Retailer's own policy	—

Return window & eligibility

A return is accepted only if all of these are true:

1. It is within the window: 30 days from the in-store purchase date, or 30 days from the ship date for online and phone orders.
2. It was bought directly from ConnectWave (store, website, app or phone sales).
3. Proof of purchase is available (receipt, order number, or the account's purchase record in ICMS).

4. The device is in like-new condition: no physical or liquid damage, all original accessories, box and manuals included.
5. Activation locks are removed (Find My / Google account signed out), and personal data is erased.

We may refuse a return, or charge for missing or damaged items, when the condition requirements are not met.

Holiday window: devices bought between mid-November and December 31 can usually be returned until mid-January of the following year (set exact dates each season).

Fees, charges & refunds

Restocking fee. $50 plus tax per wireless device returned or exchanged. Not charged on accessories, on defective (DOA) devices replaced under warranty, or in Hawaii.

Refunds. Full purchase price minus the restocking fee, to the original payment method. Card refunds post in 3–10 business days; installment purchases are reversed and the remaining device balance is removed from the account.

Fees refunded on return within 30 days:

- Activation fee, if the line is disconnected within the window.
- Upgrade fee, if the upgraded device is returned within the window.

Charges that still apply: plan charges, usage, taxes and surcharges for the days service was active (prorated).

Promotions and trade-ins. If a device bought with a promotion is returned, the promotional credits are cancelled and any promotional trade-in value is charged back. A device bought at a promotional price must be returned within the window to avoid any early termination or promotional charges.

Security deposits are refunded 30–60 days after the line is closed.

Exchanges, defective devices & warranty

Exchanges. One exchange per purchase, within the same 30-day window. The $50 restocking fee applies. If the new device costs more, the difference is charged; if less, it is refunded. Shipping charges may apply to exchanges sent by mail.

Dead on arrival (DOA). A device that fails within the first 14 days due to a manufacturing defect is replaced with a new unit at no restocking fee.

Manufacturer warranty (after the return window). Devices have a 12-month manufacturer warranty covering defects, not physical or liquid damage. Customers get a certified like-new replacement through the warranty process.

Device protection plans. Damage, loss and theft are covered only by an optional protection plan, with a deductible per claim. Without one, the customer pays full repair or replacement cost.

Installed equipment. If a technician must remove installed equipment (for example a vehicle or fixed-location unit), a service fee applies.

How to return & what can't be returned

How to return:

1. In store: bring the device, all accessories and ID to any ConnectWave-owned store. Authorized retailers only accept their own sales.
2. By mail: start a return in the app or online account to get a prepaid shipping label. Ship within 7 days of requesting the label; the return is dated by the carrier scan.
3. Track it: refunds and balance changes appear within 1–2 bill cycles; the bot can check `return_status` in ICMS.

Not returnable:

- Opened SIM/eSIM kits and prepaid refill cards
- Digital content, apps, gift cards
- Devices with physical or liquid damage, or with activation lock still on
- Items past the return window (defects are handled under warranty)

Cancelling service within the return window. Returning the device does not cancel the line automatically. To cancel, customers must also request disconnection. Within the first 3 days, the activation fee is waived; within 30 days, it is refunded if the device is returned. Prorated service charges still apply.

Chatbot handling rules

The bot checks eligibility from ICMS data first, then answers; it never approves a return or waives a fee itself.

Customer says	Bot checks in ICMS	Bot response
"I want to return my phone"	`purchase_date`, `channel`, `device_type`	Days left in window, $50 fee, steps to return
"It's past 30 days"	`purchase_date`, warranty status	Explain window closed; offer warranty or protection-plan claim
"The phone is defective"	days since purchase	Under 14 days: DOA replacement, no fee. Otherwise warranty
"Can you waive the restocking fee?"	account standing	Cannot waive; transfer to agent
"Bought it at a third-party store"	`channel`	Retailer's own policy applies
"Where is my refund?"	`return_status`, `refund_txn`	Status and expected posting date

Escalate to a human for fee-waiver requests, damaged-on-delivery claims, lost return shipments, and any return the customer disputes.

Sources

- Verizon return policy
- Verizon Business return policy
- Verizon return guide, prepaid window (The Return Guide)